

OPEN HOUSE

A Magazine of Interior Design and Architecture

The magazine of contemporary and traditional residential design has a new look on the web! We've updated our design so that we can bring you the latest Open House information – online, and at your convenience.

SUBMIT DESIGNS

Find out how you can submit a project for publication consideration. Timeless designs and creative renovations from an array of select architects, interior designers, landscape architects, builders, and other design professionals make up the pages of Open House. If you have a design that you want noticed, Open House may be the venue for you.

ADVERTISE

Capture the attention of buyers by advertising in the oversized format of Open House. Your ad will hit its target because every reader of Open House is interested in design ideas, decorating, home purchases, and "lifestyle" products and services – assuring you an audience with enthusiastic interest in what you have to offer.

SUBSCRIBE

Keep on top of the best in new designs, products, accessories, and furnishings by subscribing to Open House. Each semiannual issue features up to six residential projects photographed in lush detail with accompanying descriptive text. It's a magazine you'll want to refer back to, savor and display for years.
